Weather Hinders Landing Open Third War Front

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops opened a third front in Cambodia Tuesday but bad weather and heavy enemy fire limited it to a landing of 500 troops who prepared an artillery and patrol base.

About 6,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in the nearby central highlands were committed to the operation when the bad weather hit. Their objective was to knock out enemy headquarters and base camps in northeast Cambodia.

The first heavy enemy resistance since American troops poured into Cambodia on Friday to open a second front came at Snuol, in the Fishhook area 200 miles south of the central highlands area.

There about 2,000 North Vietnamese dug in at Snuol and in surrounding rubber plantations prevented a U.S. armored column from occupying the town eight miles from South Vietnam's border.

The first front opened last Wednesday in Cambodia's Parrot's Beak south of the Fishhook. It is in charge of South Vietnamese troops with American advisers and U.S. air and artillery support.

Sources in the field told Associated Press photographer Charles Ryan that the operation in northeast Cambodia ran into trouble from the start.

Ryan, reporting from Pleiku—30 miles east of the operation's target in Cambodia's jagged mountains, said the Americans' planned helicopter assault was stalled by thick mist in the target area.

When the helicopters were able to reach their landing zones, several came under heavy enemy fire. At least one battalion of some 500 men was forced to turn back to South Vietnam, field reports said.

"Just as the choppers started settling in," one soldier said, "both sides of the treeline opened up with Ak automatic (rifle) fire."

The first helicopter took at least a dozen hits, but there was no immediate report on whether there were any casualties or helicopters downed.

Although the U.S. Command in Saigon announced the operation as if it were carried out as planned, it was not clear what effect the first day's problems would have.

With only one battalion on the ground beyond the border and the enemy presumably aware of the invasion plan, the command was left with the dilemma of whether to follow through or change the mission.

The operation was designed as a combined move with the South Vietnamese ostensibly in command of equal-size U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

Elements of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division under the command of Maj. Gen. Glenn D. Walker were drawn up just north of the South Vietnamese units under Lt. Gen. Lu Lan, commander of South Vietnam's 2nd Corps Area.

The combined operation along a 60-mile stretch of the border and up to 20 miles inside Cambodia was code-named Pacific West 1.

Allied spokesmen reported no major encounters with the enemy and said there were no reports of casualties on either side.

Government military spokesmen said the operation was aimed at knocking out North Vietnamese training centers, rest areas, supply depots and possibly some headquarters.

"We are not primarily after enemy personnel," one high South Vietnamese officer said.

Some 200 miles south of the operation, American tanks blasted their way into Snuol.

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported that brick houses office buildings were reduced to rubble and wooden houses were burned to the ground by tank guns and air strikes.

A prisoner said several hundred North Vietnamese waited in ambush for the U.S. armored column moving along Highway 7 toward Snuol, 40 miles from where the operation in the Fishhook began.

The tanks and armored cavalry assault vehicles of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment swung around the plantation and captured the town's airstrip against feeble resistance. As the column rumbled into the sprawling town, the North Vietnamese troops opened fire with antitank weapons from backyard and street bunkers.

One officer said orders were given to "blow the town away," since the civilians had fled.

Guardsmen Drops 'Sniper' Charge

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Adj. Gen. S.T. Del Corso said Tuesday he had no evidence to support his earlier assertion that a sniper fired at National Guardsmen before the troops shot and killed four demonstrators at Kent State University.

But he called the shootings "a self-survival incident" motivated by the individual Guardsmen, members of a force of some 100 troops who had been pelted by rocks and concrete chunks thrown by demonstrators.

Del Corso had said Monday that a rooftop sniper had fired on the troops. Guard officials said the sniper had been spotted by a police helicopter, but a state highway patrol official Tuesday said no such report had been logged.

The adjutant general said Tuesday: "No one gave an order to fire." He said "32 to 36 rounds" were fired and that a cease-fire order was given seconds after the firing began.

Del Corso said he had heard reports that a rooftop sniper had fired on the Guardsmen, but that he had no evidence to support this.

Brig. Gen. Robert H. Canterbury, an assistant adjutant general, told newsmen Tuesday that each of the Guardsmen had been bruised by thrown objects and said, "I felt I could have been killed out there."

Canterbury said there had been no general announcement telling students that the Guard rifles were loaded, but that it was standard procedure for Ohio Guardsmen to carry loaded weapons at the scene of a disturbance. He said the Guard felt it "generally is not a good practice" to fire warning shots.

Canterbury said demonstrators had closed to within 10 or 12 feet of Guardsmen when the shooting began. Asked if troops could not have used bayonets to defend themselves, Canterbury said, "They could have been over-run."

FBI and Guard investigators clamped tight security restrictions over the Kent campus as they began piecing together events which led to the deaths of the four students and the wounding of 10 others, three of whom remained in critical condition.

The small, grassy valley where the shootings took place was cordoned off.

FBI investigators, working from an Air Force ROTC headquarters, moved about without comment. An FBI spokesman in Cleveland would say only that there were "sufficient numbers of agents on the campus to determine if there had been a violation of federal law."

A National Guard lieutenant who refused to identify himself was asked why his troops would not answer questions about the shootings.

"I'm giving them a direct order not to talk," he said.

Meanwhile, the bodies of the dead were released to their parents after an autopsy.

They were: Miss Sandy Lee Scheuer, 20, of Youngstown, Ohio; Jeffrey G. Miller, 20, of Plainview, N.Y.; William K. Schroeder, 19, of Lorain, Ohio, and Miss Allison Krause, 19, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The Portage County coroner, Dr. Robert Sybert, revising an earlier statement, said two of the students were shot as they faced the Guardsmen and two others from the side.

"All I can say is the two girls were shot from the side, the two boys from the front," he said.

Protesters Plague Illinois Universities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mobs of students, shouting protests against the Southeast Asia war and the deaths of four demonstrators at Kent State University in Ohio, vandalized Reserve Officer Training Corps headquarters on two Illinois college campuses Tuesday.

An estimated 500 students raided the Administration Building and ROTC offices at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. They smashed windows, triggered fire alarms, sprayed paint, overturned files and scrawled on the walls.

Several hundred students took part in two raids on the ROTC building on University of Illinois Circle Campus on Chicago's West Side, smashing windows and furniture and scuffling with security guards, cadets and ROTC officers who tried to stop them.

One student was arrested at the Circle Campus, although most of the raiders fled before police reinforcements arrived.

A security guard, Edward Fertig, was severely beaten and taken to a hospital for treatment.

An ROTC spokesman estimated the damage to headquarters, a one-time bank building at Roosevelt Road and Halsted Street, at $1,000.

At Northern Illinois students lowered the United States flag at the University Center and hoisted a black banner bearing "Kent State" in white letters. Inside the Administration Building they scrawled "Pig Kill" and "Avenge Kent" on the walls. The mob brushed aside Patrick McAtee, student association president who exhorted the students against violence on the way into the ROTC headquarters.

At Illinois State University in Normal, a scuffle developed between three Vietnam war veterans and three unidentified students who lowered the flag to half staff. It was lowered twice as a symbol of mourning for the Kent State deaths. The veterans raised it each time to full staff.

Witnesses said those who lowered the United States flag also tried to parade a Viet Cong flag across the campus.

Security police detained all six students but released them after questioning.

Some 200 Illinois State students attempted unsuccessfully to see Dean Richard Hulet and demand that the flag be lowered to half staff.

In adjoining Bloomington, the student senate of Illinois Wesleyan University voted to observe the afternoon as a period of mourning. University officials sanctioned half staff display of the flag. There was no violence.

More Federal Aid Possible SS Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Enactment of the new Social Security bill would give a gentle but definite government push to development of prepaid general health service organizations, and to limits on rising doctor and hospital bills.

The force behind the push is big money. Through Medicare, the Social Security health program for the aged, and Medicaid, the state-federal plan for low income persons, the government is a giant customer of the health professions and industries.

Medicare pays hospital bills out of Social Security funds. Most of the aged are enrolled in its Plan B, at a cost to them of $4 a month, soon to be increased. This covers doctor bills.

Both hospital and doctor costs have soared far above original estimates.

The bill approved in principle Monday by the House Ways and Means Committee would provide an alternative. Persons eligible for Medicare could sign up with one of the comprehensive care organizations, paying only what they otherwise would pay, and the government would cover up to 95 per cent of the cost of separate hospitalization and doctor services. The comprehensive groups generally claim they can provide services at less cost.

The recipients could arrange for additional services at their own expense—or the comprehensive plans could provide them within the federal cost ceiling. The latter is one of the things the Health, Education and Welfare Department is hoping will develop.

It tried to work into the bill provision for preventive examinations and other services by the comprehensive groups, but the committee would not go that far.

The department hopes also that the availability of government financing will stimulate development of more prepaid group health organizations. There are only a few now, mostly on the two coasts.

But, a department spokesman told a reporter, "They could be developed anywhere that hospitals and doctors decided to get together."

The bill also contains two provisions bearing directly on health costs.

One would be the first federal definition of reasonable charges by doctors under Medicare, Medicaid and similar programs. These would be set in a locality by eliminating the highest 25 per cent of prevailing actual charges and recognizing the highest charges remaining. Beginning in 1972 these could be adjusted upward on a showing of rising costs.

The Welfare Department also would be instructed to try to work out arrangements with hospitals for determination of charges in advance and techniques for holding down expenses.

These provisions are wrapped into the bill, headed for House consideration this month, that provides for a 5 per cent increase in Social Security benefits and a hike in the payroll tax base from $7,800 to $9,000 next year.

Nixon Report Optimistic

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces will penetrate no deeper than 21.7 miles into Cambodia without congressional approval and American troops will be out of that country by June 30, President Nixon told senators and congressmen Tuesday.

Speaking to members of the House and Senate foreign affairs and military committee in two separate sessions Tuesday, Nixon reportedly gave assurances the U.S. incursion into Cambodia, announced last Thursday in a nationwide address, would be no deeper than 30 to 35 kilometers—18.6 to 21.7 miles.

The chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., told reporters Nixon would come to Congress for approval should he decide it was necessary to make a deeper penetration.

Those attending the morning session at the White House were largely administration supporters but Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said what he heard "does little to lessen my apprehension."

Rep. Charles Whalen, R-Ohio, said Nixon's answer to one question made it clear to him that "the real reason" for the U.S. drive was to lessen Communist pressure on the Cambodian government—something which administration spokesmen have described as secondary to blocking attacks on U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

Five senators, meanwhile, formally introduced a proposal to terminate U.S. operations in Cambodia within 30 days, and in Laos and Vietnam by the end of 1970, except for withdrawals of U.S. forces which would be completed by June 30, 1971, unless Congress approved an extension.

The bipartisan proposal was assailed by the assistant Senate Republican leader, Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, who termed it reckless and irresponsible, adding "This is no time to pull the rug out from under the President of the United States."

The House is due to vote Wednesday—probably favorably—on a proposal to prohibit use of U.S. ground combat troops in Cambodia except as deemed necessary by the President to protect U.S. lives in South Vietnam.

Nixon told congressmen he supports the proposal, an amendment to a military procurement bill sponsored by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., leader of a drive to force a Senate vote on cutting off war funds, announced formation of a Committee For a Vote on the War to rally public support for the move.

"We intend to push for a vote in the House, a vote in the Senate and a vote in November," a McGovern aide said.

Plans for a Senate debate on Vietnam and Cambodia this week, centered around the proposal to repeal the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution, went awry when Republicans on the Foreign Relations Committee objected to denunciation of Nixon's Cambodia move in the report on the proposal.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., backed by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., won unanimous consent for the recommitment of the Tonkin reports to the committee, after he asserted "the staff got a little overzealous" and wrote its views in the committee report.

The report drafted by the committee staff alleges in part that Nixon's dispatch of U.S. troops to Cambodia "evidences a conviction by the executive that it is at liberty to ignore the national commitments resolution and to take over both the war and the treaty powers of the Congress when congressional authority in these areas becomes inconvenient."

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., took responsibility for the report, saying he had not noticed the references to Cambodia. Looking at one, he said "I personally agree with that but I agree it should not be in the report."

A revised report is not expected before next week.

Besides Nixon and the legislators, the morning session at the White House was attended by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, presidential assistant Dr. Henry Kissinger and Wheeler.

Nixon, Laird and Wheeler outlined the development of the Cambodia drive, and then answered questions.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Committee, said "It's going right well," adding, "it is very clear that the movement there is tied to our Vietnamization."

"I think that the withdrawal schedule would have been in bad trouble if it had not been for that."

His House counterpart, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., said "In my opinion, the American people will find the President has made a very timely decision, and moreover he caught this crowd flatfooted."

But Symington said later in the Senate: "Could this invasion be an admission that the policy of Vietnamization has failed?"

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana was asked whether the Cambodian operation is going well. "They seem to think it is," he said, adding that he heard nothing at the White House to lessen his depression and dismay at the events of the past week.

Urge Choice Of Blackmun

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved Tuesday the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Harry A. Blackmun, President Nixon's third choice to fill a year-old vacancy.

The 17-0 committee vote pointed toward early Senate confirmation of the 61-year-old Rochester, Minn., judge, a close friend of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said it is possible the Senate may take up the nomination Friday.

In Rochester, Blackmun said he was "deeply honored by the action of the Judiciary Committee." Referring to last week's hearing on his nomination he said "each and every member of that committee, while penetrating in examination, was most kind and considerate to me."

Blackmun, a member of the 8th U.S. Court of Appeals since 1959, was nominated by Nixon on April 15 after the Senate had rejected two Southern judges, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina and G. Harrold Carswell of Florida.

The Haynsworth and Carswell nominations ran into strong opposition from labor and civil rights groups, but no one testified against Blackmun's nomination at a 3-hour hearing on April 29.

The Supreme Court has been short one member since Abe Fortas resigned last May after coming under fire for having financial ties with the family foundation of Louis E. Wolfson.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said the Judiciary Committee would file its report to the Senate recommending Blackmun's confirmation on Thursday. The two-day delay was requested by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., to give him time to prepare a separate statement.

Byrd told newsmen that he is satisfied with Blackmun's "ability, integrity and the correctness of his judicial philosophy." But he said Blackmun would not have been his first choice. He would have preferred Haynsworth, for one, he said.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader in the fight against the Haynsworth and Carswell nominations, said he also plans to file a separate statement on Blackmun's nomination.

Bayh pitched much of his opposition to Haynsworth on ethical grounds and his statement will be designed to draw a distinction between Haynsworth's and Blackmun's participation in cases in which they had a financial interest.

No Fuel Like Wasted Fuel

In a highly interesting demonstration the other day, the Continental Oil Company used two cars to drive home one very important point to U.S. motorists.

A hose was hooked up from the tailpipe of one car to the carburetor of the other car, the engine of the second car was run on the exhaust from the idling first car.

The point: a dirty exhaust, caused by a badly tuned or inefficient engine, does more than pollute the air. It can waste enough unburned fuel to power a second engine.

Forget any ideas about rigging up an exhaust collector for use in traffic. The first experimental car was purposely adjusted for maximum gasoline wastage. The point is still valid, however.

Another kind of experiment was conducted in Ann Arbor last month. A group of University of Michigan engineering students held a free tune-up clinic, handling 43 cars in nine hours and turning away another 200. They came across some amazing things:

Cars with broken distributor caps; cars with completely inoperative spark plugs; cars with extremely dirty engines; and one man who complained about his engine burning oil yet had never had his car serviced in three years.

Could it be, the students ask, that some of the same people who have been blaming Detroit's engineers for environmental pollution have allowed their automobiles to degenerate by neglect?

How many people, they ask, would have attended the clinic had labor costs been added? How many of those turned away had their cars tuned elsewhere? How many service stations are qualified to perform low-pollution tune-ups, and how many oil company advertisements give the impression that the correct gasoline replaces the need for periodic tune-ups?

In short, conclude the students, "It should be emphasized that it is the owner's responsibility to maintain an automobile, not only for his own interests but also for the well-being of the community."

And if the well-being of the community doesn't grab you, just remember the Conoco experiment and think about all that lovely, unburned—paid-for—gasoline that might be escaping from your tailpipe.

By Constitutional Amendment

The minimum voting age in national, state and local elections seems destined to be lowered to 18 within the near future. This action has now come to be strongly supported by popular sentiment, and by those who lead or reflect it. The question is how best to achieve what the public clearly wants.

To put a finer point on it, the question is whether to lower the voting age through legislation or through constitutional amendment. In our opinion the latter method would be preferable.

Attaching a new amendment to the Constitution is a laborious procedure, true. At this writing it appears likely, however, that the required two-thirds majority in both Senate and House could be mustered. Nor does ratification by the necessary three-fourths of the states seem at all out of the question; there is reason to think this might be accomplished by mid-1971.

The Senate already has approved of the 18-year-old vote in the form of an amendment to the voting rights bill. If the constitutional route is to be followed, the House will have to reject the Senate amendment. President Nixon has urged this. We concur in his view. Considering the likelihood of time-consuming court tests should the voting age be lowered by legislation, amending the Constitution might be the swifter course after all.

Commanders Face Dilemma In War Theatre

Editor's Note: American and Vietnamese ground forces have been engaged in major operations inside Cambodia for five days. Peter Arnett, who has covered the Vietnam war for The Associated Press for seven years, has visited all the operational areas in Cambodia and assesses the situation.

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer
WITH TASK FORCE SHOE-MAKER, Cambodia (AP)—After only five days in the new war theater of Cambodia, American troop commanders are faced with two major dilemmas.

One of them is military: Premature monsoon rains have washed out an important forward airstrip, and the hundreds of armored vehicles spearheading the American thrust are starting to bog down in some places.

The other is political: American ground troops who in Vietnam had trouble separating friend from foe among the civilian population now have a whole new set of problems in sorting out the Cambodians. U.S. air strikes have partially destroyed the plantation town of Mimot. Villages are being burned. Thousands of civilians are fleeing for their lives.

The imminence of the monsoon rains is of great worry to the operational commanders. Tactical planners apparently hoped for another six weeks of cloudless skies, but two inches of rain fell Sunday just over the border in South Vietnam's War Zone C, turning the red clay to instant mud.

The armored force of more than 700 tanks and tracked vehicles constitutes the bulk of the American effort inside Cambodia. Vietnam's mud has been a more formidable obstacle to American armor than the Viet Cong, and possibly because of the impending monsoons, American forces are dashing rapidly through the Cambodian countryside.

This rapid movement is one reason why the civilian population has become involved. The Fishhook region, which the Americans entered because they thought it contained the headquarters for all Communist activities in South Vietnam, is only lightly populated. Then the Americans pushed north to Route 7 and beyond, and now they are among rubber plantation hamlets and farms.

The pattern of Vietnam is being repeated. The American troops are putting the torch to homes because they may be useful to the Communists. Live-stock are shot for the same reason. Palls of smoke rose over the region on Sunday. Clusters of houses smoldered.

"I had orders to burn everything," said one young tank commander whose force had just driven through two hamlets and burned both of them.

Less deliberate destruction is visible in the heavier populated area around the Mimot Plantation, up to a week ago the largest functioning rubber plantation in Indochina.

But the inevitable has happened to the sprawling town of Mimot. U.S. air strikes were ordered on the town because North Vietnamese troops were reported inside.

American ground troops may be ordered to take the town, and this would mean more destruction.

American commanders have blocked Route 7 in two places. One is at Firebase North, which the Americans set up about 12 miles up the road from Mimot. American troops riding helicopters range 20 miles farther into the country on reconnaissance forays.

The scores of thousands of people in the operational area are caught between the Americans on one side and the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese on the other. Another factor is the Khmer Rouge, the Cambodian equivalent of the Viet Cong.

"All this action could drive the Vietnamese population of the rubber plantations into the ranks of the Viet Cong and the Cambodian people into the arms of the Khmer Rouge, unless we take special care," commented one knowledgeable observer.

Major problems of identifying and feeding refugees can be expected to shape up in the near future as U.S. forces push farther into Cambodia. More American forces are reported ready to go into other border areas, and they will encounter thousands more Cambodians.

More destruction can be expected, particularly if the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese continue to occupy Cambodian towns on the major highways running near Vietnam. The American and Vietnamese troops intend to make full use of their vast firepower.

The Vietnamese troops are eager to push deeper into Cambodia. When Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri, commander of the biggest Vietnamese task force, linked up with the Cambodian army at Svay Rieng, he offered to push on through to Phnom Penh 100 miles away. The offer was not accepted.

The Americans might be similarly tempted to free other Cambodian towns from Communist occupation. But they might be swamped in both mud and people.

Space Puts Man's Mettle In Crucible

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — It was wholly predictable that at the first whiff of near-tragedy in our moon-landing program some politicians, observers and other public figures would tear into the space effort like a pack of dogs.

Obviously, it was an easy opening for those who have always opposed the program. The perils of Apollo 13 also got to a lot of people who really want to ho-hum their way through a risk-free world and had always blinded themselves to the narrow margins of safety available to men venturing into space.

The silliest people of all, however, are those who argue that our Apollo 13's brush with death has destroyed the self-glorifying illusions Americans gained from the moon landings of 1969 and the long string of earlier space successes.

It is exactly the other way around. President Nixon, who really does not have felicity of phrase at most historic moments, nevertheless was fumbling for something real when he said adversity is man's truest test.

What the flight of Apollo 13 showed was not the end of an illusion which has distracted men from a lot of dirty, unfinished tasks at home, but what men can do—period.

There are a good many reckless fancy-dans like Norman Mailer who like to put down the men in the space enterprise as a lot of faceless, computerized chaps cut from a gray mold—stampings from this oppressively technological era.

The truth is Apollo 13 was saved by men in the craft and on the ground who were performing supremely as individuals, yet blending their efforts to get a vital job done with the fullest dedication.

The men in this program talk a complex common language mystifying to most of us. They have many traits in common, especially the astro-nauts themselves.

Some 20,000 companies help make machines and gear for space. Thousands of men are directly involved in the co-ordinated program. Their effort is bent toward a fantastic goal—sending men in life-sustaining capsules to pin-pointed landings on a foreign celestial body through a cruelly intolerant space environment which kills any who violate its rigid rules by the smallest fraction.

Illusion? Rubbish! It is one of the great accomplishments of history and of mankind, and the whole world knows it and appreciates it. Our glory is the world's glory, and people's appreciation of what we have done never showed more fully than when the risks came into bright glare with Apollo 13.

British author C. P. Snow had it right when he wrote last summer that men cannot be kept from this kind of venturing and others would finally bring it off if Americans did not.

Our difficulty is not that we insist on fulfilling man's ancient dreams of exploring space while troubles boil up on earth. Men have always done that, and some of the troubles were diminished by what the adventurers learned in their "irrelevant" voyages.

Our greater hangup is the dreams we cling to on earth. And no one is more guilty of fostering and perpetuating these than the men who today are assailing our space undertaking as a costly distraction.

America was born with a special mythology of freedom. Its great material riches made the opportunity real for millions and lifted expectations to exaggerated heights for countless others. We have never stopped dreaming too big, hoping for the risk-free, exuberantly happy life. Hence the bitter frustrations of many are understandable.

What we have long needed, as historian Dr. Daniel Boorstin suggests, is to forget about fixing and fulfilling some great national purpose. We will do better in small human clusters, working with dedication and fuller knowledge, in assaults on an ever-changing roster of important but quite specialized goals.

Far from adding to crippling illusion, our men in space have shown us—in a very cruel laboratory—that such hard goals can be attained.

Ann Landers: Evidence Supports Theory Car Safe Place In Storm

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column you said the safest place to be during an electrical storm is in a car. A number of years ago the National Geographic Society published the results of extensive experimentation with relation to the action of lightning. A car with the driver inside was repeatedly struck with a million volts of man-made lightning. The man in the car suffered no injuries whatsoever.

The tests proved that if only the tires touched the ground and there were no loose parts or other objects in contact with the earth, and if the occupants did not allow any part of their bodies to touch the metal parts of the car, they could not be injured.

The National Geographic Society further concluded that the three safest places to be during a lightning storm are (1) in the furnace, (2) in the refrigerator and (3) in a car.—Clifford H.S.

Dear Cliff: Thank you for the supportive evidence. The next letter should be of interest to you.

Dear Ann Landers: We had always heard that the chances of being struck by lightning while in a car were about ten million to one. Well—meet the one in ten million. We live in Ionia, Michigan.

In 1963 we were rolling the Northwest Expressway into Chicago. The children were nervous about the lightning which seemed to be flashing all around us. Both my husband and I kept telling them that the safest place to be during an electrical storm is in a car. In mid-sentence—ka-pow!!! A tire blew out. The smell of burning sulphur was suffocating. The radio was knocked out and the top piece of the antenna "evaporated." We knew at once that lightning had struck the car.

The tire company refused to honor the guarantee. They said —"This was no ordinary blow-out." They were right. We were that one in ten million!—J.H.N.

Dear J.H.N.: Thanks for the fill-in. But I'd still rather be in a car than in a furnace or a refrigerator.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm not writing for advice—it's too late for that. I'm writing in the hope that you can help other women whose lives are ahead of them. Women, like me, who are frigid.

The purpose of a wife is to be a mate to her man, to respond to him and to create new life. I have tried to be a mate. I have tried to respond to my husband. And I have had children. I love my children very much, but there was no joy in their creation. I am like a machine that goes to bed and performs automatically. Then I turn off the switch and get some rest.

I urge every woman who is not getting pleasure and satisfaction out of sex to seek professional help. I didn't, and I am sorry. I spent my entire married life pretending—and not very successfully. I'm afraid. Now that I am old, I am bitter and resentful. I've missed it all.—Bouquet of Regrets

Dear Regrets: My only comment is to repeat verbatim a sentence in your heartbreaking letter. "I urge every woman who is not getting pleasure and satisfaction out of sex to seek professional help."

REITHER on Beardstown

By Virgil Reither

BEARDSTOWN — Chalk up a reservation on the calendar for May 16.

On that Saturday the Beardstown Rescue Squad is to benefit from the proceeds of the annual fish fry, which will start at 11 a.m. and proceed until 2 p.m.

Members of the Beardstown fire department, most of whom are also volunteers for the Rescue Unit will put aside their boots and rain coats and helmets, don their white aprons and substitute as cooks, waiters and general handymen at the fire department quarters in the city hall.

Long tables will be provided at which those desiring to do so may eat their fish and trimmings on the spot. But there will also be carryout service and delivery service for the convenience of those who wish to eat at home — or at the office or the plant, for that matter.

Firemen and Rescue squad members discovered at their first fish fry that Beardstownians really "go for" the freshly fried fish and other items on their menu — they made a "sizable piece of dough" on that occasion, and expect to do even better this time.

Remember — it's May 16th!

Need Volunteers

Leo Reich, administrator of Schmitt Memorial hospital, has announced that volunteer workers among girls 17 years of age or over can be of great help at the hospital these days.

He points out that the youngsters could be of great help at this time of the year when the staff is sometimes depleted because of vacations.

It has been suggested that if enough teenage girls are interested in this type of volunteer work at the hospital, a program such as the "Candy Strippers" may be formed.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. Milton McClure, Jr. or Lyle Kuhn.

Royalty Named
Mark Reither and Janet Buck, members of the 1970 B.H.S. graduating class have been chosen King and Queen of the class by their classmates, it has been announced.

The Junior-Senior prom was held at the high school Friday night.

Remaining events for the seniors include the baccalaureate services and Commencement.

Campaign Begins

The most ambitious campaign for public support of the Beardstown hospital program has been started here with Robert Rankin heading an effort to raise $600,000.

Mr. Rankin, public affairs director for the Western Division of the Central Illinois Public Service company has announced his organization for the campaign which will be held during this month.

Included are the following:

Medical: Dr. A. G. Hyde, Dr. J. J. Hea and Leo Reich, Schmitt Memorial hospital administrator.

Corporate: D. R. Welbourne, Western Division superintendent for the CIPS company.

Major: J. J. White, president of the First National Bank.

Rural: Gilbert Lebkuecher and Frank H. Trussell.
Urban: R. N. Buck, R. J. Drake, Velma Gish, Elda Heinze.

Residential: Don Sloan, D. R. Patterson

Area Communities: Kathryn Kuhn, Pamela DeSollar, Hospital Auxiliary.

Donor's Tax Counsel — Atty. Milton McClure, Jr.

Auditor: Thomas Brannan.

Publicity: Barbara Potts, Helen M. Schaeffer

New Use for Building

The Illinois-Star offices at 112-114 W. Main street, which used to hum with the roar of presses, the clank of the linotype machines and the clatter of typewriters is being put to a new use.

Woody Sudbrink, who bought the Star and moved its offices, has donated the old building to the hospital. It now has been equipped with beds and dummy patients for inservice training.

Jean O'Connor, R.N. is inservice instructor. Her classes meet Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Chapin Church Will Install Pastor Sunday

CHAPIN — Formal installation of Reverend John R. Binkley, Jr., as minister at Chapin Christian church will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 10, at the church.

Rev. J. R. Binkley, Jr.

The speaker will be Rev. Jack Reeve, executive minister of the Illinois Disciples of Christ. Glen Schone, chairman of the official board of the church will lead the installation service. The Youth Choir will sing, Fair-est Lord Jesus, Mrs. Jan Smith directing.

Rev. Binkley started serving Chapin Christian church in March of 1970. He attended Eureka College and the Divinity School at University of Chicago.

With special interest in inter-racial affairs he attended several seminars at the United Nations and studied with the Butler University seminar on the Church and World Affairs, traveling to Europe and Middle East.

His pastoral ministry has covered service in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. Before coming to Chapin, he spent five years in social work in Peoria, most of the time as supervisor in the Senior Citizens information and Referral Center.

Rev. and Mrs. Binkley have two children, Mark Binkley of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. Dale Ellsworth of Kellogg, Iowa. There are five grandchildren.

SWEARINGEN GRAVESIDE RITES HELD TUESDAY

Graveside rites for Kurt Steffen Swearingen were held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at Memorial Lawn cemetery. Dr. John W. Collins officiated and Gilliam-Buchanan Funeral Home was in charge.

Pallbearers were Raymond Likes, Florian DeMichael, Chuck Peabody and John Ducey.

LARRY PARKS ON HONORS LIST AT FLORIDA COLLEGE

Larry Michael Parks of 1014 South Main street was one of 355 students achieving highest scholastic standing at the University of West Florida at Pensacola during the winter quarter. To qualify, a student must maintain a 3.50 grade point average or above based on a four point scale.

AREA LUTHERAN PASTORS attended an Evangelism Conference Monday and Tuesday at the Holiday Inn here. The 2 day session dealt with The Whole Man, outside the realm of the pulpit. Part of the meeting was at the local YMCA. Co-chairman for the Conference, Rev. Harold G. Woodworth of Salem Lutheran church, is at right; Rev. James F. Hawley, former Bluffs pastor, is left and Rev. R. A. Hook, 1st fulltime District president of Central Illinois District of Lutheran churches, center, conducted sessions.

Outdoor Sport Projects Whet Ambue Interest

Ben Seudder, faculty member at Jacksonville high school and a teacher eight years in Cairo before moving to this city, spoke before members and guests of the Ambues last week. The program for the luncheon meeting Wednesday, May 6, at Holiday Inn, will be John Johnson from General Telephone Co.

Charles Rice, president, was in charge of last week's meeting attended by 38 members and six guests. The latter included John Guess and Pat Finley from Mobil Chemical with Bill Norris; Don Matthews and Charles Cox, General Telephone Co., with Albert Andrews; Dick Stubbins, Crown Finance, with Bob Moss; Jim Volmer, Rockford Photo, with Harold Adams.

New member Forrest Whitsell won last week's Lucky Buck, guest Charles Cox picked up $14.50 in the 50-50 drawing; and sergeant-at-arms Ed Marquard missed the attendance drawing. Ron Gray subbed for the sergeant.

Ron Stucker reported $300 to date proceeds from the recent benefit basketball game with the local Jaycees, with some monies yet to be received.

Ambues are considering entering a team in the YMCA Slo-Pitch softball league this summer. About 15-16 players will be needed. Those interested get names immediately to Ron Gray at WJHL station. Ambues also agreed to handle the Phillips 66 Pitch, Hit and Throw May 23-24. Six volunteers are needed a couple of hours each on the two dates. Volunteers please contact Buford Green at the Journal Courier immediately.

Albert Andrews (Andy's Place) invited members to participate in the annual Andy's Open Golf tourney and barbeque on June 7.

Mrs. Milton Kuklies sent thanks to all for articles sold in the recent garage sale sponsored by Ambues. This group will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 7, with the president's wife, Dorcas Rice, 236 East Pennsylvania. Darro Steinheimer will speak on Drugs and Drug Addiction.

LYNNVILLE CHURCH TO HONOR MOTHERS

Lynnville Christian church will present a program entitled Family Day in Church Honoring Mothers at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 10.

Several readings, songs and skits will be presented. A quartet of Mrs. Earl Hempel, Mrs. Harold Hamel, Jack McNeeley and Joe Ash will provide special music.

Tokens of appreciation will be awarded to the family with most of its immediate members present. Dr. Ivan R. Smith will give a special illustrated sermonette for both the children and the adults. The public is invited.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 6, the 126th day of 1970. There are 239 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, the exhausted American and Philippine garrison at Corregidor surrendered to the Japanese after resisting 150 days.

On this date:

In 1856, the Arctic explorer, Robert Edwin Peary, was born in Cresson, Pa.

In 1861, Arkansas withdrew from the Union.

In 1884, the New York investment firm of Grant and Ward went bankrupt, leaving former President Ulysses S. Grant almost penniless.

In 1937, 36 lives were lost in the crash of the German dirigible "Hindenburg" at Lakehurst.

In 1941, Joseph Stalin succeeded V.M. Molotov as Soviet premier.

In 1955, West Germany joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ten years ago—Britain's Princess Margaret was married to a commoner, Antony Armstrong-Jones, in London's Westminster Abbey.

Five years ago — A White House commission recommended relaxing trade restrictions between the U.S. and the Soviet Union and other European Communist countries.

One year ago — A new prime minister in Northern Ireland declared amnesty for persons arrested in civil disorders.

MT. STERLING WOMAN BREAKS FOOT IN FALL

MT. STERLING — Mrs. Phyllis Manton of Mt. Sterling suffered a fall recently and fractured her foot. She is a patient in Beardstown hospital.

Virginia Country Club Changes Hands

BEARDSTOWN — A popular Central Illinois supper club has changed hands but will continue operation under the original name—the Virginia Country Club.

It is located eight miles east of Beardstown on state highway 125.

The new owners are Duane and Jean Cox, who took over the night spot this week from Mr. and Mrs. Ray Campbell.

Mr. Cox is a brother of Ivan Cox, Standard Oil bulk dealer in Beardstown, and is a native of Pike county.

The Campbells bought the club many years ago from Jess Watts and said the sale was triggered by the fact that Mr. Campbell has been in poor health. The Campbells will go into semi-retirement but continue to occupy their Beardstown home and will assist in the club management for a time.

The Virginia Country Club was developed many years ago by prominent Beardstown businessmen and played a part in the growing popularity of golf as a sport for local merchants at least 40 years ago.

It has a sporty nine-hole course which will be continued under the new management. Golfers are attracted from Springfield, Macomb, Rushville, Virginia and many other communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox have announced they will retain present employees and hope to encourage membership by having excellent food and service.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 6—Born today, you are a person who does not give his affections easily—but when you give them, it becomes a matter of a firm, deep, lasting attachment. Extremely loyal to those of whom you are truly fond, you cannot be persuaded by any means to betray the trust of a loved one. The friends you make are as dear to you as members of your own family and in some instances even more so. Spouse and children are your inspiration and your deepest source of pleasure.

Although you do not actively yearn for adventure, you are one whom adventure seems to seek out. Without trying, you are almost always involved in some sort of new experience and as a result you are continuously growing in understanding, knowledge, perceptivity, and perhaps most important of all, in determination. You are fully aware of those things which it is possible for you to accomplish—and accomplish them you will.

Even friends and family are at times surprised at the depth of your understanding of things outside yourself. You are a well of information—a well which will be tapped more and more by outsiders as you mature and news of your problem-solving abilities spreads. You can count on having much of your time taken up answering others' questions.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Thursday, May 7

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—Try several ideas out on another if you would find the one that appeals most. Offer only one alternative and all may say no.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Take care that in attempting to save the present situation you do not destroy what might have been good future possibilities.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Consider the wants of others before making up your mind about desires of your own. Satisfying yourself may cost too much.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—You would be wise not to insist upon laying down the law either at home or on the employment scene. Easy does it.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Don't be persuaded by another that rules were made for breaking. Stick to the rules of the game until they are changed.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — You may have to work out a schedule of activities as suitable to another as to yourself. Do so without any delay.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23)—

Decisions made during the first part of the day may prove to have been made in haste. Don't fight against new knowledge.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Make your approach to the present project an objective one. If you become overly subjective, the quality of your work may suffer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)—Make whatever changes must be made today gradually. Don't try to get everything done at once. Explain things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—There is no time like the present when it comes to taking an honest stand against hypocrisy. Stand up and be counted with others.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—If you are wise, you will not make too much of an effort to enforce new house rules. Let changes come gradually.

ARIES (March 22-April 20)—Look into the matter of housing. Your first attempt at change where the present situation is concerned should be at home.

U. OF CHICAGO POST TO SON OF LOCAL COUPLE

The son of a Jacksonville couple, Charles W. Wegener, professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago, has been appointed master of the new collegiate division and associated dean of the college, according to a recent announcement by University of Chicago president Edward H. Levi. Prof. Wegener is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Wegener, 408 North Laurel Drive. The couple formerly lived at Oak Park.

Prof. Wegener, native of Oak Park, received bachelor and doctorate degrees from U. of C. and joined its faculty in 1950. He has been co-editor of Ethics, journal of social political and legal philosophy published by the University of Chicago Press, since 1963.

Announce Four U.S. Air Strikes Against N. Viets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon disclosed Tuesday that U.S. warplanes carried out four—not three as previously reported—large-scale air strikes against North Vietnamese anti-aircraft gun and missile positions over the weekend.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and other top Pentagon officials had no knowledge of the fourth raid until Tuesday, according to Asst. Secretary Daniel Z. Henkin.

Henkin said he didn't know why information on the fourth raid was not available Monday when he announced that the series of attacks on North Vietnam targets ended with only three.

"I erred... I apologize to you for my mistake," he told reporters. Meanwhile, Pentagon sources said efforts were being made to find out why this information was not available.

The fourth strike was by between 75 and 90 planes in the Mu Gia Pass area around midnight Saturday, Washington time. It was at the same general time and of the same general magnitude as the three other raids reported Monday against targets just north of the Demilitarized Zone and in the areas of the Barthelmy and Ban Karai passes, according to the Pentagon.

Laird told reporters after a hearing on Capitol Hill Monday that he knew of only three raids.

Henkin, the Pentagon's chief press officer, said he learned of the fourth when "I saw a report." He refused to describe the report or its origin.

As for Laird, Henkin said he couldn't speak for the secretary but that Laird had the information of the raid in time to discuss it with the Senate and House Armed Services committees at the White House Tuesday morning.

All four attacks, Henkin said, were authorized in advance by Washington. He said it was possible that "an event could be authorized and not reported back" to Washington immediately.

Other sources said the report on the Mu Gia operation was in the Pentagon but did not reach higher levels because of an internal foul-up. He called it an honest mistake.

Down Payment For Investors Cut To 65%

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board voted unanimously Tuesday to cut the minimum down payment investors must make to buy stocks on credit to 65 per cent, the lowest in almost seven years.

In trimming its margin requirements from 80 per cent, the board cited a sharp reduction in credit brokers extend for stock purchases. In March, such credit fell to $4.5 billion, the lowest in 4½ years.

The margin requirement for convertible bonds—those that can be converted into stocks—also was cut, to 50 per cent from 60 per cent.

Both changes were announced after the stock markets closed with a drop of 4.82 points in the key Dow Jones Industrials, bringing them to 709.94, the lowest since Aug. 9, 1963.

The changes will take effect Wednesday and will affect only new transactions.

Although the change was generally hailed within the Nixon administration, there was no consensus on what it might do for the ailing market, which has fallen 275 points since the Dow Jones reached its peak of 985.21 on Dec. 3, 1968, the month before President Nixon took office.

Murray Weidenbaum, assistant treasury secretary for economic affairs, called the move "a constructive step." But like a spokesman for the Federal Reserve, he pointed out that studies of margin changes' effect on the market have turned up different answers.

The change applies to all loans made by stock brokers or banks to investors buying stocks listed on national exchanges or named in the Fed's over-the-counter list of about 250 stocks.

It will not affect the 70 per cent retention requirement for accounts under the minimum margin requirement. The retention rule specifies that 70 per cent of the proceeds from the sale of stock in those accounts must be retained until the account meets the requirement.

The change is the first since June 8, 1968, when the margin requirement on listed stocks was set at 80 per cent and on convertible bonds at 60 per cent.

The reduction followed persistent reports last week that the New York Stock Exchange has asked the board to make the cut. But at least one problem was the possibility of criticism because the change would make scarce credit more available for stock purchases.

The complex contained thatched huts connected by bamboo sidewalks and underground bunkers, many with antennas sticking into the air.

U.S. officers said the complex apparently is a huge supply depot and not the command post of the Central Office for South Vietnam—COSVN—the Communist high command which directs all military and political operations in the southern half of South Vietnam. COSVN is the prime objective of the Fishhook operation.

In the third area of operations in Cambodia, a South Vietnamese task force in the Cambodian Parrot's Beak occupied the ruins of Ba Thu, a big enemy base a mile from the South Vietnamese border and 45 miles west of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese forces said they killed over 1,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in four days of fighting and seized tons of weapons, ammunition, rice and medical supplies.

The Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, meanwhile, faced a threat from a North Vietnamese force that moved to within 27 miles of the city from the southeast.

A major commanding the defending force of 450 Cambodian soldiers said he faced about 3,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong regulars. These forces were aided by Vietnamese civilians detained by the government but freed by the enemy, plus Cambodians opposing the government.

Flown in to defend the capital, however, were 1,500 Cambodians born in South Vietnam, members of a mobile task force highly trained by U.S. Green Berets. They arrived with all their equipment three days ago.

The runners had to hold up when it appeared left fielder Danny Walton might catch the ball and Congiario, going at full speed, wound up on second base along with teammate Carl Yastrzemski, who had walked. Congiario however, was able to get back to first when the Brewers left the bag unattended.

A walk to George Scott forced in the fourth run and the fifth marker came across on an error by third baseman Tommy Harper.

Williams succeeded in 1969 in getting the legislature to pass a bill making the gun registration apply only to Cook County but it was vetoed by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The law requires that persons possessing guns register with the state and pay a $5 fee good for five years.

In other action, the House defeated an attempt by Rep. Christian Homeier, R-Springfield, to kill a bill appropriating state funds for aid to private and parochial schools.

Homeier said the bill violates the state constitution and infringes upon freedom of religion. He offered an amendment to strike the bill's enabling clause but received only 46 supporting votes, compared to 79 against.

The football signees will be quarterback Dan Payne of Leo, halfback Gary Potempa of Notre Dame Niles and tackle Greg Szatko of Lyons LaGrange.

Irish basketball Coach Johnny Dee will be on hand personally to accept the letter of intent from Sam Puckett of Hales Franciscan.

plete year-end records and set the last day of school as Wednesday, June 3. This will take place, provided no emergencies cause cancellation of school between now and June 3.

Whether June 2 is a holiday or work day is somewhat in question. The superintendent would like for the faculty to consider it as a "work day" and the faculty may view the period as a "holiday." The board can not require teacher attendance, legally, although the faculty will be "urged" to complete all school records by that time.

German as an additional language program for Jacksonville high school will begin in September. It will continue on progressive basis until it becomes a three or four-year program. A part-time teacher will be employed for September with approximately 36 students indicating their interest in the subject.

Payments of $11,950.00 to Bellatti, Fay and Bellatti, and to Chapman and Cutler of $3,000 were approved for legal services in connection with the recent bond issue. The money will be paid from the bond funds.

A survey will be made of the Red Farm property for two reasons, according to Supt. Crone. The first is planning for the future and to obtain a proper legal description. In a letter from Attorney William L. Fay, it was pointed out that there is a discrepancy in the legal description. The current description does not include a portion of property along the highway but does include a part of the neighbor's property to the west.

President of the Board J. Ivan Heaton, Jack Kurtz and Jack Fairfield will represent the board at a meeting next Tuesday evening with the professional negotiations committee of the Jacksonville Teachers Association.

A further letter from Attorney Fay indicated that it would be possible to lease a portion of the Red Farm to JAARC to construct a school for handicapped children but that it would require a referendum of the voters plus a lease not to exceed 52 years.

An evaluation of the independent learning program by faculty members was presented to the board, John Willets made the presentation which includes several students at Jacksonville high school.

Recommendations of the faculty was to continue the program and evaluation procedure, grant more staff time to the program and involve parents to a greater degree.

Some students have gone far beyond the basics. Some students were able to finish early and students became aware of teachers as people. Students by and large were happier with their freedom.

Willets said students are reading widely and using the library facilities more readily. "I think students are developing more critical thinking ability," he said.

The program places the burden of class work on the student who works at his own speed. Class attendance is not required, although each student must cover the assignments and scope of the course.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Carlos Paretti, auto racing champion of Argentina, just wants to be "one of the boys" in his first appearance at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

"He has applied for a United States Auto Club license," said Paretti's interpreter, Dr. Vicente Alvarez of Buenos Aires, "although he only needs his international license. He doesn't want to be considered a foreign driver, just another racer."

Paretti is the first Argentinian to try to make the 500-mile Memorial Day race field since Juan Fangio, five-times world champion, entered in 1958.

"Fangio looked very good in practice," Dr. Alvarez recalls, "but he discovered there were at least 10 faster driver-car combinations in the field and withdrew. He is a proud man."

The transition from road racing to American closed course tracks was much harder at that time because the cars were vastly different. Now they are almost identical except that U.S. Auto Club championship engines are larger.

"Paretti can drive anything and he has," said Dr. Alvarez, an eye-ear nose specialist who has been a racing buff for more than 35 years. He is an internationally known race news writer whose articles appear in Auto Sport of London, Auto Mundo of Buenos Aires and several American racing magazines. He designed the Cordoba race track in Argentina.

Paretti will be a teammate of Bruce Walkup and Bill Vukovich for Agajanian-Faas racers, driving a Halibrand Shrike with a turbocharged Offenhauser engine. The Agajanian is J.C. Agajanian, who won the Indianapolis classic with Troy Ruttman in 1952 and Parnelli Jones in 1963.

Ask Clubwomen To Help Fight Threat To Park

The board of the Jacksonville Woman's club met Monday, May 4, at Central Christian church. The president, Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat, presided. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. John Hadden. The financial report was given by Miss Catherine Rapp, treasurer. Mrs. William Fanning gave the auditing report.

Mrs. Paul Gnagey, corresponding secretary, read communications which included thank-you notes from the Central Christian church nursery department for the cash donation for remodeling and from the Public Library for cash, through the club's Community Improvement division, to purchase books. The three books reported obtained are Restoring and Preserving Antiques by Frederic Taubes; This England and The Age of Chivalry, both published by the National Geographic Society. A letter from the American Field Service International Scholarships of Jacksonville thanked the club for a cash gift to this project.

Write Authorities

Also read was a letter stating that again the Allerton Park area is in danger of being flooded, therefore harmed. The compromise reached last May is again being threatened. IFWC club members are asked to write to Senator William Harris and Representative R. A. Walsh at once and to Hon. Thomas C. Rose, also a member of the appropriations committee, and request this project be halted.

A thank-you note from the DAR regent, Mrs. Albert Powers, thanked the club for the flowering tree recently planted on the Chapter Home grounds.

Mrs. R. E. McKinney, public education division chairman, reported on the new movement for social change. Mrs. J. W. Cully, project chairman, reported success in the IFWC project.

Mrs. Harry Killam, membership committee member, presented Miss Elizabeth Hardy and Mrs. Jerry Corbett, requesting membership. Both were accepted.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat, Mrs. C. M. Reid, Mrs. John Hadden, Mrs. Paul Gnagey, Miss Catherine Rapp, Mrs. J. W. Cully, Mrs. H. J. Wright, Mrs. Paul Black, Mrs. Russell Cosner, Mrs. R. E. McKinney, Mrs. Ben Negus.

Quick Shrimp Curry
Mango Chutney
Green Peas
Fruit Compote

QUICK SHRIMP CURRY
1 package (1½ lbs.) frozen cleaned, peeled and deveined shrimp
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
4 tablespoons instant flour
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed chicken broth, undiluted
¼ cup water
½ cup light cream

Cook the shrimp according to package directions; drain. In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter. Remove from heat. Stir in the flour and curry powder. Gradually stir in chicken broth, keeping smooth. Stir in water and cream. Cook, stirring constantly, over moderately low heat until sauce thickens and boils. Add shrimp. Reheat gently; do not boil. Makes four servings. Serve with mango chutney and salted nuts.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Humidify Indoor Air
To Help Avoid Dry Skin

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Q—For a long time, my son and I have had dry skin. Could it be caused by soap or some vitamin deficiency? What do you advise?

A—Dry skin is usually more of a problem in winter than in summer, especially in persons who fail to humidify the indoor air in cold weather. You should bathe in lukewarm (not hot) water and use very little soap. Bathing twice a week rather than daily will help and, instead of rubbing yourself dry, use your towel to pat or fan yourself dry. A very thin coat of cold cream before retiring will help to prevent dryness. Vitamins A and B are essential for a healthy skin but it is doubtful that your dry skin is caused by a deficiency of these vitamins.

Q—I am a man, 21. I can't get a close shave. I've tried different kinds of blades and an electric shaver. When I shave, my skin gets red and flaky and hurts. What do you suggest?

A—You may have seborrheic dermatitis. Since an electric shaver will not irritate your skin, use it two or three times a day if necessary. Apply methasone valerate (Valisone) cream to the reddened areas once or twice a day and use a dandruff-removing shampoo two or three times a week.

Q—Would a cream that contains ammoniated mercury and natural estrogen be harmful to my skin?

A—No. Ammoniated mercury is a mild antiseptic. The hormone cream will not remove wrinkles and it is not likely that enough will be absorbed to cause any rejuvenating effects, but it is harmless.

Q—How can I tighten the loose sagging skin on my arms, legs and thighs after losing 23 pounds?

A—It sounds as if you lost weight too fast. There are no drugs or exercises that will tighten your skin. If it doesn't shrink in a month or so and if it's that important to you, your best bet is to consult a plastic surgeon.

Q—I am a Negro woman, 22. I have several burn and scratch marks on my face and legs. Is there any way to remove them?

A—Using masking cosmetics is the simplest way to make the marks inconspicuous. The only way to remove them is to have a skin graft.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual

America made simple.

Here are three famous Americans you know all about.

You know that long-haired doped-up troublemaker who probably gets his allowance from Hanoi.

You know that heavy-set fellow who does nothing but drink beer, watch TV, and hate black people.

And you know that angry black man whose only interest in life is killing the pigs.

What's more, since you know all about these guys, you don't have to listen to what they have to say—unless you happen to agree with them.

You can just chalk up America's problems to one or two of them, and go about your business as usual.

It's nice and simple. But it's all wrong, because you don't really know these three fellows at all.

For all you know, that long-haired troublemaker just got back from three years in the Peace Corps and is studying to be a teacher.

For all you know, that heavy-set fellow works side by side with a black man and never gives it a thought.

And for all you know, that cop-killer is actually spending his time running a free medical clinic to help the people in his neighborhood stay well.

The point is, you don't know. And most other people don't either.

But as long as we Americans keep making believe we know all about each other, we'll just keep hating each other. Until the hate in each of us kills us one and all.

That's why we at Blue Cross and Blue Shield are asking each of you to make a real effort to find out what the other guy is really up to. And to give him the benefit of the doubt.

If you do, you'll discover that he's not the monster you think he is. Then maybe you'll find a way to work with him to solve some of our complicated problems.

Together, you can do it.

Alone, you can't.

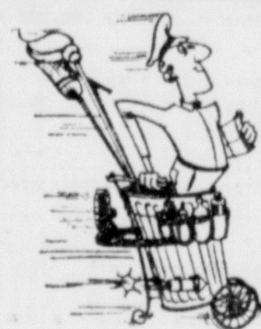

That's simple, too.

But it's true.

We need each other.

Blue Cross. Blue Shield.

my high cards. If you have trumps to spare, this shouldn't worry you; when you don't have trumps to spare, it should.

North's raise to two hearts meets with our full approval. Once in awhile, this bid will lose you a spade fit but most of the time it leads to the right final contract in hearts.

South might well have jumped right to four hearts but he was an optimist and tried a three-club call to see if he could strike up some slam interest. When North merely bid three hearts, South settled for game.

South looked over dummy and saw that he could afford two trump leads, should trumps break 3-2. Then he would wind up losing one trump and two diamonds. What about a 4-1 trump break? Could he guard against it? Yes, he could.

South ducked the first diamond and won the second. Then he cashed dummy's king of trumps and his own three top clubs to get rid of dummy's last diamond. Now he ruffed a diamond, played ace of spades, ruffed a spade, ruffed his last club with dummy's last trump and wound up losing two trumps in addition to the diamond he had lost at trick one.

We aren't going to claim that South's line of play was outstanding. There are other lines that would have worked also and plenty of lines that would have left South in the soup. The real point is that South could not afford to draw two rounds of trumps.

♥+CARD Sense♠

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
Pass	2 ♦	2 ♥	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♦	Pass	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A K 10 8 7 ♥ 2 ♦ 8 3 ♣ K J 7 5 2

What do you do now?

A—Bid four diamonds. You don't expect to be hurt there and you are willing to defend against a heart game if your opponents bid it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three diamonds your partner has bid two spades over East's two hearts. What do you do now?

Quincy, Southeast Top Crimsons Here

Quincy High school's powerful track team nosed out Springfield Southeast and easily downed host Jacksonville High school in a quadrangular track meet on the JHS cinders Tuesday afternoon in which eight individual performances were either tops or second best in the area this season.

Quincy, taking ten firsts to four for Southeast and three for JHS, ran up 70 1/2 points to 62 by Southeast 44 1/2 by the Crimsons and 7 for Meredosia. Jacksonville's only firsts were Bob Ware's 4:35.8 in the mile run, Lon Overton's 5'6" in the high jump and Rust's 36'7" in the triple jump.

Some of the outstanding performances included a 1:32.5 by the Quincy 880 relay team, a 5:26.220 by Fletcher of Quincy, a 2:03.9 by Smith of Southeast in the 880, a 1:39.3 by the Quincy frosh-soph relay, a 22.9 by Stegeman of Quincy, a 3:32.4 mile relay by Quincy, a 50'9 1/4" by Welchans of Quincy in the shot put and a 142'11" by Aton of Quincy in the discus.

JHS' outstanding two-miler Gary Russell developed cramps after four laps and could not finish. Crimston Phil Birdsall had his best discus toss of the year, 141'7", to take second.

Dual Track Meet Finishes In Tie

HARDIN — Calhoun and Winchester battled to a deadlock in a dual track meet Tuesday afternoon with 66 points each.

Calhoun dominated the field events, with Wesley Poore taking the high jump and shot put and a second in the discus. Winchester commanded most of the running events, with Brad Baird winning the high hurdles and discus.

Winchester was running without ace hurdler Cliff Cox, while Calhoun's top sprinter Joe Clendenny suffered an injury after the 100 yard dash.

Calhoun assured the tie by winning the final event, the mile relay.

Principia Rolls Past IC By 11-2

Principia struck for six runs in the first inning and coasted to an 11-2 Prairie College Conference romp over Illinois College on the IC diamond Tuesday afternoon.

The winners, now 7-7 for the season, ripped five Bluejay hurlers for 13 hits, including a perfect day by Lockett, who hit for the cycle and drove in five runs in the process.

Illinois College, held to five singles for the day, slides to 5-8 overall and 1-4 in league action.

Iba Will Again Coach Olympic Basketball Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Iba, who retires this year after 36 years as head coach at Oklahoma State, will coach the U.S. basketball team in the 1972 Olympics at Munich, Germany.

M. K. Summers, chairman of the Olympic basketball committee, also announced Tuesday that Jim Gudger, coach at East Texas State, would coach the American team in the 1971 Pan-American Games at Cali, Colombia.

Western Hands Clan 9-1 Defeat

Western Illinois University exploded for seven runs in the fourth and fifth inning and rode tight pitching to a 9-1 victory over MacMurray on the Highlander diamond Tuesday afternoon.

The winners, now 10-10 on the year, pushed in three runs in the fourth and added four more in the fifth. Two Leatherneck hurlers combined to limit MacMurray, now 5-9, to five hits while striking out nine batters.

The lone Highlander run crossed in the seventh inning when Glen Stinson doubled and came across on two passed balls.

Indiana Takes Ky. 111-103

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Indiana squeaked a third-period Kentucky Colonel rally to take a 111-103 victory Tuesday night and move to a 3-1 advantage in the American Basketball Association Eastern Division play-off.

The best-of-seven series now moves back to Indianapolis for a game Wednesday night.

Boston Posts 6-2 Count Over Blues

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Eddie Westfall and Derek Sanderson fired two goals each and superstars Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito established Stanley Cup scoring records as the Boston Bruins blitzed St. Louis 6-2 Tuesday night in the second game of the National Hockey League's final-round playoffs.

Their eighth-straight playoff victory gave the Bruins a 2-0 edge in the best-of-seven series.

The third and fourth games are scheduled for Thursday and Sunday in Boston, where the Bruins have lost only three games in 44 starts this season.

It was the 10th straight final series loss for the Blues who have never beaten an East Division opponent in three championship-round tries. And it might well have been the most one-sided.

The Bruins were just about perfect, bunching three first-period goals, two by Westfall, and constantly beating the Blues to the puck and the play throughout the game. St. Louis managed only 19 shots against Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers.

Orr, unbothered by the shadowing strategy which the Blues eventually discarded when they fell three goals behind, picked up two assists and so did Esposito, both establishing Stanley Cup point-scoring records. Orr's two points gave him 18, a record for defensemen, and Esposito's two gave him 23, a record for all players.

Orr and Esposito wasted no time setting their marks. Bobby Orr on a power play, eluded shadow Jim Roberts for a moment at center ice and scooped the puck to Esposito who took it behind the Blues' net and shoved it to Fred Stanfield for Boston's first goal at 8:10 of the opening period.

Dierker, Astros Drop Cubs, 3-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Larry Dierker hurled a four-hitter for his fifth victory of the season as the Houston Astros defeated the slumping Chicago Cubs 3-1 Tuesday night.

It was the fifth straight loss for the National League's East Division leaders and their ninth setback in 12 road games this season.

Jim Wynn led the Astros to their third successive victory with a double and two singles, and teammate Norm Miller hit a bases-empty homer off loser Ferguson Jenkins.

Ron Santo's third homer broke Dierker's shutout bid in the sixth but the Houston right-hander breezed the rest of the way in boosting his record to 5-2.

San Diego Rally Gains 11-8 Edge At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Clarence Gaston's two-run homer keyed a four-run ninth inning burst and carried the San Diego Padres to an 11-8 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night.

The Padres, who fought back after Philadelphia struck for seven runs in the first inning, shot ahead in the ninth when Steve Huntz rapped a leadoff double and Gaston slammed his fourth homer of the year.

Singles by Nate Colbert and Ollie Brown and a two-run double by Ron Slocum completed the rally.

The Phils raked San Diego starter Al Santorini and reliever Danny Combs in the first inning, with Larry Hise and rookie Mike Compton belting homers.

Dave Campbell started the Padres on the way back with a two-run single in the second and Humoz' two-run homer in the fourth keyed Phils' starter Grant Jackson.

Al Ferrara hit a two-run homer off reliever Barry Lersch in the seventh, trimming the deficit to 7-6, but Philadelphia added a run in the bottom of the inning with the help of a two-base throwing error by Ed Spiezio.

Brown homered for the Padres in the eighth, setting the stage for their winning rally. San Diego 020 200 214-11 13 2

Jury Still Out On Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The jury is still out on the 1970 Philadelphia Phillies. The club has the same record, 12-11, it had after 23 games last year.

Rookie manager Frank Lucchesi, however, believes the won-lost figures are deceptive. He feels his new look club is better than the 1969 team which lost 99 games. The Phillies are home from a 10-game road swing tied with the New York Mets for second place in the National League's Eastern Division. They won seven and lost three against San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Phillies are operating this year without the power of Rich Allen and John Callison, traded in the off season. Lucchesi never did get Curt Flood, who decided to sue rather than play baseball. He lost his two catchers in one inning last Saturday, each suffering a broken hand. The best average among his top three hitters is .230.

How are they maintaining a better than .500 record? With good pitching, especially in the bullpen.

Lucchesi hasn't had a complete game from one of his starters in the last 12, of which the Phillies won eight. He has, however, been blessed with great relief pitching by Dick Selma, Joe Hoerner and Lowell Palmer. Selma has four saves and a victory, Hoerner three saves and a win, and Palmer a victory.

That adds up to seven saves and three wins for the bullpen. Last year, the Phillies had 21 saves in 162 games. Hoerner, for example, came in Sunday in the first game of a doubleheader, trailing 6-2, and won 8-6 in 13 innings. Palmer relieved in the second game behind 5-0, and went 8 1-3 innings for a 13-6 victory.

The Phillies play 15 of their next 20 games at home, and Lucchesi expects his slumbering sluggers to start hitting with some consistency. He's confident that the club can maintain the play that has them closer to first place at this stage of the season than any Phillies' team since 1964.

Triopia Claims PMSC Grade School Crown

Team balance offset a pair of double winners by ISD as Triopia claimed the PMSC Grade School Conference track title on the ISD cinders Tuesday afternoon.

Triopia totaled 57 points to 46½ by ISD and 35½ by Perry in the eight-team field.

ISD's Griffin and Fitzpatrick each captured two events.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Players Reject Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, reported negative reaction Tuesday from the players on several items of a new player-owner agreement proposed by the owners.

Miller said he discussed the proposal with several players representatives by phone and is drawing up a summary of the 34-page proposal to be distributed to all the players. Miller submitted the proposal without making any recommendation.

The players are expected to vote on the proposal as soon as possible. What action might be taken if the contract is rejected is conjectural.

Carrollton Hold In Meet Ended By North Greene

CARROLLTON — North Greene broke a five-year Carrollton domination by sweeping to the team title Tuesday evening in the 72nd annual Greene County Track and Field Meet.

North Greene captured seven firsts and tied for another in piling up 84½ points to 59 by Carrollton and 23½ by Greenfield.

The winners' Thayne Bradford won the 100 and 220 as the meet's only double winner. North Greene's Gene Vinyard set the only new record with a 2:05.0 in the 880. The old mark was 2:05.1, set by Manning of Roodhouse in 1963.

Dodgers Breeze To 4-0 Shutout Over Mets, Ryan

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Grabarkewitz and Wes Parker each cracked two-run doubles and the Los Angeles Dodgers breezed to a 4-0 victory over the New York Mets Tuesday night.

Grabarkewitz' blow to the fence in right center field scored Wes Parker and Willie Crawford in the sixth inning, snapping a scoreless tie. An inning later, Parker's two-out drive to the left field corner knocked in Von Joshua and Maury Wills for a 4-0 edge.

The Dodgers, who hadn't beaten the Mets at Shea Stadium since June 22, 1968—losing nine in a row—ripped loser Nolan Ryan, 2-2, for eight hits and all four runs in the seven innings he worked.

Rookie right-hander Sandy Vance, 2-1, went the first five innings, allowing five hits while striking out two and walking one. Fred Norman moved down the Mets over the last four innings on one hit and struck out four.

New York's Tommie Agee extended his hitting streak to 16 games with a third inning double.

4 Oriole Homers Gain 7-3 Margin

BALTIMORE (AP) — Home runs by Dave Johnson, Elrod Hendricks, Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell powered the Baltimore Orioles to a 7-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals Tuesday night.

The Orioles trailed 2-1 with two out in the fourth inning when Johnson hit the right field foul pole for a two-run homer and Hendricks followed with another homer.

With two out in the fifth, Brooks Robinson homered over the center field fence with a runner aboard. Powell connected with the bases empty in the seventh.

Kansas City's Pat Kelly stroked an inside-the-park homer in the fifth, his looping fly ball bounding by Don Buford in left field.

Tom Phoebus checked the Royals on five hits on the way to his second victory against one loss. Loster Dick Drago is 1-3.

Illinois Sweeps 2 From Eastern

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois pounded out 10 runs in the opener and used strong pitching in the nightcap Tuesday to take both ends of a doubleheader from Eastern Illinois 10-6 and 3-1.

Randy Crews went 4 for 4 and drove in two runs for Illinois in the first game as Mike Bennett was credited with the win.

Bill Hodge allowed two hits in five innings in the second game for the victory. He needed help from Barry Yurtis who hurled the final two innings.

Illinois has won 15 while losing 10 and tying one.

Boyer & Aaron Smash HR In 12-6 Victory

ATLANTA (AP) — Clete Boyer smashed two home runs and Hank Aaron his 10th of the year Tuesday night as the streaking Atlanta Braves won their eighth straight, 12-6 over Pittsburgh.

Aaron's blow, the 2,986th hit of his career, capped a seven-run outburst by the Braves after two out in the second inning. It included a three-run double by Felix Millan while two other runs were walked home by Pirate starter Bob Moose, 0-3.

Boyer hit a solo homer to left in the third and followed with a three-run round-tripper in the fifth, scoring Rico Carty and Orlando Cepeda, who had walked.

Southpaw George Stone, 4-1, didn't allow a hit until the fifth when Willie Stargell singled sharply to right.

But in the sixth, the Pirates got to Stone for six singles that produced four runs and Stone gave way to reliever Hoyt Wilhelm in the seventh. It was Wilhelm's 998th pitching appearance.

Carty extended his hitting streak to 24 games with singles in the second and sixth.

The Pirates, who have lost six straight, saw only singles in their last 25 hits until Bob Robertson's two-run homer in the eighth, his third of the year.

Final score: Jacksonville 8, Canton 0

Jackson Says His Timing Coming Back

OAKLAND (AP) — American League pitchers beware. Reggie Jackson says "I'm getting my timing back."

Jackson's batting average is coming out of a nosedive, and the Oakland Athletics right fielder hopes to fatten it against New York Yankee pitchers in a three-game series that opened Tuesday night.

Jackson, off to a poor start after holding out until little more than a week remained in spring training, came up with a home run, double and triple Sunday as the A's split a doubleheader at Washington.

He has been taking extra batting practice for the past two weeks and has brought his average up to .182 from a low of .083. He has five homers.

At this time last season, Jackson was batting .242 with nine homers. He went on to hit .275 with 47 homers and 118 runs batted in.

The former Arizona State star, who will be 24 on May 18, figured his outstanding 1969 year should earn him at least a $60,000 contract for 1970, although he at first asked for $75,000.

Finally, he signed with A's owner Charles Finley for $45,000 plus a rent-free luxury apartment in Oakland during the baseball season.

He worked out with the Arizona State baseball team during the long standoff with Finley, and passed a test for his Arizona state real estate license. He has a Tempe office in partnership with several other athletes.

"It's something I can make $15,000 to $20,000 in during the off season," Jackson says of his real estate venture.

Jackson didn't hit well during the A's first home stand and the Oakland Coliseum crowds, averaging less than 5,000 a game, boomed him.

He was dropped from No. 4 in the batting order to No. 7 near the end of the home stand.

"What else should you do with an .083 hitter?" Jackson asked. "But I'll be back to No. 4."

He was switched back to cleanup halfway through the road trip.

Bonds Sparkles As Giants Race By Montreal 4-1

MONTREAL (AP) — Right-fielder Bobby Bonds stole three bases and drove in two runs to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 4-1 victory over the Montreal Expos Tuesday night.

Bonds led off the first inning with a walk and stole second with Ron Hunt at bat. After Hunt grounded out, Bonds stole third and scored the Giants' first run on Willie Mays' single.

The Giants added two more runs in the sixth inning with Bonds' single driving in both runs. Dick Dietz led off the inning with a double and Tito Fuentes walked. Both runners advanced on pitcher Rich Robertson's sacrifice bunt and Bonds singled them home.

The Expos scored their only run of the game on a ninth inning homer by Adolfo Phillips.

New Berlin Pick To Retain Title In Sangamo Meet

NEW BERLIN — Host New Berlin is favored to repeat as team champion while at least four individual records stand a good chance of falling in the annual Sangamo Conference track meet here Thursday, starting at 1:30.

Teams competing are New Berlin, Pleasant Plains, Glenwood, Riverton, Rochester, Tri-City, Ashland, Athens and Williamsville.

Possible record-breakers include New Berlin's Mike Meier in the 880, New Berlin's frosh-soph relay team, Duke and Awe of Glenwood in the high hurdles, and Pleasant Plains' Bill Phillips and New Berlin's Steve Simpson in the two-mile.

Meet records are:
Mile run — 4:40, Bryant Tri-City 1966; 880 relay — 1:37.2, Tri-City 1966; high jump — 6'4½", Frank New Berlin 1966; high hurdles — Duke Glenwood 1969; 440 — 54.1, Warneke Rochester 1968; 100 yard dash — 10.0, Peecher New Berlin 1969; shot put — 49'1", Tapscott Pleasant Plains 1969.

Memories Nourish Spirit When Present Bores, Future Appals

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memories make up the mind's best menu.

Even in our most starved hours they give nutrition to the spirit.

There is no life so poor that it has nothing to look back to with pride or consolation or joy. And, of course, the richer our lives have been with varied appreciations and experiences, the more pleasurable it is to recall the past at those times when the present bores us and the future appals.

Your own menu of memories is pretty extensive if you can remember when—

A nickel was called a jitney.

The Irish, speaking of a sickly child, would sagely say, "That one will never scratch a gray head."

Anyone over 50 was regarded as elderly.

The dream of every bride was to live in a white cottage with roses at the door and surrounded by a neat white picket fence.

The Boston bull terrier was America's most popular purebred pet—and for every family that has a French poodle, two had collies.

Hearing aids became more acceptable when the First Lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, began wearing one publicly.

In November children started taking turns scratching each other's backs to relieve the itching brought on by donning their longjohn winter underwear.

A dude wasn't really a dude unless his spats had pearl buttons.

When you went to the opera,

you saw more ladies peering through lorgnettes than sunglasses.

Only the boss of a firm rested his regal bottom in a swivel chair — and even he rarely pampered himself by having a cushion on it.

Most employees got their week's pay in cash on Saturday at noon or one o'clock. Only the well-to-do had checking accounts at the bank.

During the first World War the badge of prosperity for a workingman was a striped silk shirt.

A juvenile delinquent was a kid who parked his wad of chewing gum in the long curls of the girl who sat at the desk in front of him in school.

You knew a boy's parents weren't very well off if he came to class wearing dirty tennis shoes.

Men had legs; women had limbs.

The big argument for giving women the vote was that they would raise the quality of politics.

Those were the days—remember?

Polly's Pointers

White Spots On Chrome Are Cause Of Concern

By POLLY CRAMER
Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—How does one remove white spots or lime deposits left on chrome sink trim and porcelain or enamel sinks and washing machines? My sink has a copper finish and no amount of scrubbing with cleansers will remove such spots. I have used water softening agents and tried to keep these areas wiped dry but the spots seem there to stay. At this time, we cannot afford a water-softening system. —MARION

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Deborah, who has a suede coat that rubs off on other clothing. I sell ladies' suede coats and suggest that she lightly rub off the excess with a clean terry-cloth towel or wash cloth. Suede is made by buffing leather with small wheels and this leaves a dust on new suede which will wear off in time or can be LIGHTLY rubbed off. —BILLIE

DEAR GIRLS—A professional cleaner suggested that rubbing briskly with a rubber sponge should turn the trick for Deborah.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—We can learn from our children—I know, for I did just that. My daughter made a circle, with India ink, on her pastry cloth that is the size of the crust needed for her favorite pie pan. Now, when she rolls out a pie crust, there is no guesswork as to size. She has a neater crust and the job is quicker and easier.—ELSIE

DEAR GIRLS—If you have any qualms about using India ink, an outline could be lightly drawn with a pencil and then stitched with bright thread. In fact, the one cloth could have different sizes of circles to fit different pie pans — one inside the other.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I have arthritis and cannot bend down to put on my shoes. An ordinary shoe horn is not long enough, so I use a long-handled wooden spoon for a slipper horn. It is wonderful not to have to call someone to help me slip my shoes off and on.—MARIE

Business — Market Wrapup

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — After consistently rejecting suggestions that voluntary wage-price guideposts be reinstated to help in the battle against inflation, the Nixon administration could be forced to use even harsher measures.

These measures could include rigid controls on wages, prices and credit, such as have been used in wartime. The White House hasn't said so but pressures could force such a move seem to be growing relentlessly.

Among the forces: wages, prices and interest rates continue to rise; the hopes of a budget surplus have diminished so as to barely exist anymore; the increase of military activity in Southeast Asia could mean more military spending.

Lionel D. Edie & Co., economic consultant to industry, puts it this way in a letter to its clients:

"The intentions of monetary and fiscal authorities are being undermined by uncontrollable events which are forcing the government to become a prime contributor to inflation."

At any rate, the very determined administration efforts to re-establish economic stability show few clearcut results. Moreover, with the economy showing signs of perking up again, the biggest test still could be ahead.

"The monetary and fiscal authorities thus face perhaps the most difficult period in the fight against inflation," Chase Manhattan Bank comments. It adds:

"Now and for the next few months they must walk a tightrope between the excessive tightness that could produce a bad recession and premature ease that could reinvigorate inflation."

Pierre Rinfret puts it more bluntly. Recently he told his industrial clients: "We have polluted our economic environment as badly as our physical environment."

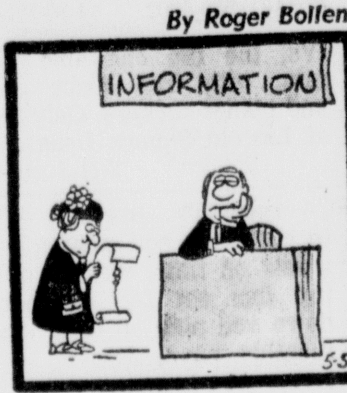

Is this a true statement of the facts? After a determined psychological, fiscal and monetary battle since the beginning of 1969, is the economy really in a confused mess, as claimed by some critics?

While independent economists seem to grow more critical as the anti-inflation program fails to produce predicted results, the administration's men stoutly defend their measures and urge patience.

The economy, they say, is in a lot better shape than is apparent. Short-term results may not be so obvious, they explain, but the foundation is being built for a healthier economy later this year and in 1971.

Investors, at least, aren't buying the explanation. In fact, rather than restoring confidence in the market, the President's statement that he would buy stocks if he had the cash is being interpreted as evidence that the White House really doesn't know how bad things are.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A moderate decline in the stock market Tuesday pushed the Dow Jones average below its closing level of the day of President John F. Kennedy's assassination. Trading was moderately light.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed off 4.82 at 709.74, lowest since Aug. 9, 1963 when it stood at 708.39. On Nov. 22, 1963, the day Kennedy was shot, it was 711.49.

Analysts attributed the decline to continued uneasiness over developments in Cambodia, as well as continuing fears of inflation and worries over lower first quarter earnings reports.

Brokers noted that the light volume indicated a lack of buying rather than strong selling pressure, what one analyst called "a buyer's strike."

After the close Tuesday, the Federal Reserve Board reduced its margin requirement for buying stock to 65 per cent from 80 per cent.

Volume Tuesday was 10.59 million shares, down from Monday's 11.44 million.

The New York Stock Exchange's index of some 1,200 common stocks closed off 0.48 at 43.11, lowest level since Nov. 22, 1966 when it closed at 43.08.

The Associated Press 60-stock average closed off 1.6 at 249.7, lowest since Jan. 7, 1963 when it stood at 248.9. Industrials Tuesday were off 2.4, rails off 0.9, and utilities off 0.5. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was off 0.77 to 78.60, a new 1970 low.

There were 1,039 declines and 311 advances, with 243 stocks remaining unchanged. The market had 495 new lows and 1 new high.

Mail order-retail, utilities, rails, oils, airlines and rubber issues were all generally lower. Aircraft were up, while steels, motors, electronics, metals and chemicals were mixed.

Prices on the Big Board included volume leader Parke, Davis, off 1 1/4 to 19 1/2; Telex, off 1/4 to 17 1/2; Fairchild Camera, off 1/2 to 39; Polaroid, up 3/4 to 71; Sperry Rand, up 1 1/2 to 26 1/2; and Bristol Myers, off 3/8 to 51 1/4.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange sank to their lowest level in 2 1/2 years. The Amex price change index slipped 0.23 to 21.42, lowest level since Nov. 29, 1967, when it was 21.17. Volume rose to 3.54 million shares from Monday's 3.45 million.

DEFEAT MOTION

TO BLOCK MANSION

REMODELING

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A motion to block the first phase of a $3.1 million remodeling job for the Illinois governor's mansion

— a plan initiated by Gov.

Richard Ogilvie — was defeated

Monday in the House Appropriations Committee.

The motion, by Rep. Pete

Pappas, R-Rock Island, was to cut $1.7 million from the 1971

Department of General Services

budget. The motion was defeated

7 to 13.

The $1.7 million, part of a total

$4.4 million general services

proposed budget would, if approved by the legislature, cover phase one of a three-phase remodeling of the 1855

governor's mansion.

Work on the first phase,

which eventually would require the governor's family to headquarter elsewhere in Springfield, would begin this fall. The project has a 1972 completion date.

The general services bill was voted out of committee 22 to 3

and sent to the House floor,

where resistance to the mansion

item could surface.

Rep. Paul Elward, D-Chicago,

who criticized Ogilvie's remodeling plan in committee hearings last week, walked out of committee

Monday without voting.

Elward is a member of a special committee, which offered a plan

last year for a $1.5 million remodeling of the mansion.

Ogilvie ordered action postponed on the $1.5 million plan during a freeze on expenditures last winter.

But in January, according to testimony brought out in committee,

Ogilvie ordered a new study for remodeling the mansion, which produced the $3.1 million plan.

The second study cost $37,000.

Sniper's Rifle Wounds Drivers In Truck Convoy

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three drivers in a westbound truck convoy were shot and wounded Tuesday by a sniper shooting a rifle from an overpass on Interstate 70 near Highland, Ill., 30 miles east of St. Louis.

Police in St. Louis reported two firebombing attempts, a shooting incident and a peace disturbance linked to a walkout by Teamsters Union Local 6000, now in its 35th day.

The wounded truck drivers were identified by the Madison County sheriff's department as Gary Kistler, 30, of Pickerton, Ohio; Denzil Smith, 30, of Stamping Ground, Ky., and Alan Latham, 47, of Georgetown, Ky.

A member of Local 600, Russell Woolen, 47, of Festus, Mo., was booked by St. Louis police suspected of individual peace disturbance in connection with an incident involving two out-state truck drivers in Missouri. The truck driver, Earl Johnson, 33, of Saxton, Mo., and Velma Condit, 45, of St. Louis, both employed by Sam Tanksy Truck Co. of East Prairie, Mo., said their truck was forced to the curb by several cars filled with men.

Police said the drivers were threatened with bodily harm, but the group broke up when police approached. Woolen was picked up several blocks from the scene.

An attempt by Mayor A. J. Cervantes to get the Teamsters and trucking interests together Monday night was unsuccessful.

The trucking representatives showed up in the mayor's office as requested, but they arrived after the Teamsters delegation had gone.

FIRE DAMAGES

WASHINGTON U.

ROTC BUILDING

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A fire extensively damaged the Air Force

ROTC building on the Washington University campus Tuesday. About 2,000 students watched, many of them chanting:

"Let it burn, let it burn."

Firemen from the suburbs of

Clayton and University City awaited the arrival of St. Louis county police before moving in to battle the blaze. Witnesses said stones were thrown at firemen when they arrived about 12:30 a.m.

A line of police drove the students up a hill behind the building and stood guard to protect the firemen while they extinguished the blaze. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Two Administrators Employed By Board; Blacktop Purchased

Members of the Board of Education of School District 117 Tuesday evening approved the employment of two of four prospective administrators scheduled for hiring before the 1970-71 school year begins.

William P. Gussner of St. Charles, Mo., will become the principal of Armstrong junior high school on North Diamond. His school is in early stages of construction.

The second appointment was a promotion of present staff, Thomas Mussatto of 1932 Cedar Street was approved by the board as the administrative assistant at Jacksonville high school.

William P. Gussner

Mr. Gussner, 29, received his undergraduate degree from Illinois College in 1963 and master's degree from Washington University in 1964. He is currently a candidate for a doctoral degree which will be awarded next year.

While at Illinois College Mr. Gussner was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, served as student forum vice-president and was president of Phi Alpha. He is currently assistant principal at University City public schools (Missouri). He will prepare the programs and purchase much of the equipment in preparation for the opening of the school. He is married and has one child.

Thomas Mussatto

Mr. Mussatto is a native of Hettick and graduated from Illinois College in 1949. He received his master's degree from Western Illinois University in 1952 and has earned 69 additional semester hours in graduate study beyond the master's degree.

He was first employed in the local school system in 1953 and 1954 at South Jacksonville school and has been with the Murraryville school since 1951. He has an all-grade supervisory certificate and is active in athletic officiating and has experience in coaching.

Two other recommendations will be made by the superintendent to the board of education in the near future: Eisenhower elementary school principal and another elementary principalship. Dr. Clifford Crone said the latter two were not yet ready for recommendations, however, both would be presented for board approval for the 1970-71 school year.

Mrs. Betty McCullough cast the only dissenting vote on the two recommendations. She made a motion that the hiring of both men be postponed for further evaluation since she had not been informed of the two candidates soon enough. Her motion died for lack of a second.

Blacktop Purchased
Blacktop for the entire drive, parking lot and potential wet weather play area was purchased for Jonathan Turner junior high school at a cost of $21,118.90 from Illinois Valley Asphalt Co. of Bluffs, low bidder for the project.

The parking lot and main drive was bid at $15,957.10 and the present driveway on the east side of the building was bid at $5,161.80. Both options were approved for installation during the current construction year. The area has six inches of compacted rock already and will be covered with two inches of blacktop.

Construction and remodeling at the high school, scheduled for completion during the summer months and ready for school use in September, will be bid within two weeks. Plans and specifications are currently available to contractors. An award is expected to be made before the end of the current school term.

Earl Cully of Cully Nursery presented plans for landscaping of Jonathan Turner junior high school for board approval. The plans call for extensive plantings at the south and north ends of the building plus a court yard in the center of the complex. Cully did not list the total cost of his plans and specifications but was authorized to deliver whatever part of the program $2,000 would buy. The plans were submitted on a "long-range basis."

The board transferred $30,000 from the education fund to the transportation fund. Status of the transfer is either a loan or deficit transfer. It will be repaid within one year.

Holiday-Work Day
Tuesday, June 2, has been designated by the board as a special vacation day of no school to allow faculty to complete the year's work.

Clara Crimmins Of Greenfield Dies Tuesday

GREENFIELD — Mrs. Clara A. Crimmins, 93, died at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Tower View Nursing Home in Carrollton. She had been employed as a housekeeper in Greenfield and had formerly resided at the Cedar Knoll Nursing Home.

The daughter of Wilbur and Mary Ann Estes Wines, she was born December 13, 1876 in Kane, Ill.

Surviving are two sons, Frederick Johnson of Granite City, Ill., and Arthur Crimmins of Danville, Ill.; one daughter, Mrs. Thelma Hinkle, also of Danville; and several grandchildren.

Friends may call Wednesday evening at the Shields Memorial Home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Firemen Answer Three Alarms

Two overheated furnaces and a car fire took firemen out three times Tuesday evening.

A crew was called at 6:58 p.m. to the home of Robert Carter, 713 East Lafayette, where they found water had caused a malfunction of the heater apparatus. A similar problem occurred at the home of Lawrence Butler, 1 Fayette Court, at 8:48 p.m. Firemen turned off the fuel flow.

At 9:15 p.m. a crew was called to the south side of the square to extinguish a blaze in a car.

Owner of the car, Nancy Stalker, a MacMurray College student, said the auto caught fire when she tried to start it. The blaze was apparently caused by a carburetor backfire.

Some wiring and part of the dash were damaged.

BREAK-IN REPORTED
City police investigated a break-in at 110 Fairview Terrace Tuesday morning. Reuck Realty reported an electric typewriter missing; Crabtree-Fernandes, Inc., reported a calculator missing; and FDIC office reported a padlock missing from a brief case. In addition, a battery-operated clock and some petty cash were missing. City police are investigating.

April 'Showers' Set New Record For Local Area

A suspicion of undoubtedly many people was confirmed over the weekend with the monthly tabulation of weather statistics at the WLDS Co-operative Weather Station.

The month concluded at midnight last Thursday set a record for the most precipitation during an April in Jacksonville since the keeping of weather records was started here in 1927.

The exact amount of precipitation here for April, 1970, has not yet been established, as the 4 1/2-inch rainfall was in progress when the month technically ended. However, 6.56 inches was recorded here during the first 29 days of the month.

And, it is certain that at least another one-and-a-third inches had fallen before midnight... the amount needed to break the record of 7.92 inches set in 1957. It is believed the total for this April will be set around 9 1/2 inches.

For those questioning how wet the ground was prior to last week's downpour, the official records show over 4 1/2 inches of rain fell here during the ten days prior to the Thursday and early Friday drenching.

Other statistics released show last month's average temperature was 54.1 degrees... barely above the long-term average of 53.9. Highest reading for April, 1970, was 88 on the 28th, with the lowest being 27 on the 5th.

I.C. GAMMA NU men will conduct a local door-to-door canvass through Thursday this week for United Cerebral Palsy of Illinois fund, to provide summer day camp for area multiple handicapped children. ## Line Crew Returns, Meeting Scheduled

The city utility department's nine missing linemen returned for work at the warehouse Tuesday morning at 8 a.m.

Their jobs dissolved by city council action Monday night, the linemen arrived at 8 a.m. and called the city hall for work assignments.

As of noon, no work assignments were forthcoming.

Mayor Dan F. Lahey said shortly before noon that city council action abolished the jobs by approving the contract Monday night with Ingram Electric to handle all maintenance of utility lines.

The mayor said, "their services have been terminated." Asked specifically, the mayor related that the nine linemen were, in his opinion, "wasting their time."

Meeting Friday

Mayor Lahey said he would call a meeting with the nine linemen, the superintendent of utilities, Robert Jameson, the linemen's union representative, and the entire city council. Lahey said he has scheduled the meeting for 5 p.m. Friday. He further stated that he "didn't know whether the meeting would be open to the press or not."

Bob Christa, shop steward for the nine linemen, confirmed Tuesday that the entire crew was "available for work" and that they all took their "medical excuses" with them if the city required it.

Jameson reportedly has mailed letters to each of the nine stating that their services were terminated by council action and that their last checks for services rendered through noon Wednesday, April 22, had been issued. Jameson considers the absence of the nine linemen who called in April 22 indicating they were "sick" as an "unauthorized absence." The letter also states that they are not entitled to sick pay, vacation or other benefits.

Jameson, the mayor and Christa were all "careful" in the comments to the press Tuesday morning. All three have met separately, individually and as a group, with members of the news media but have not met "officially" with each other.

Christa said he and the eight other linemen still had keys to the warehouse and sub-stations on their person and that they had not been asked to return them to the city. He said he would take the position that he and the other men were "available for work" and that they would remain at the warehouse on city property, until instructed to the contrary by their business agent for Local 51, IBEW.

Audubon Society Sponsoring Bird Census Saturday

A census of Spring birds will be taken by the Morgan County Audubon Society on Saturday, May 9th. This is part of a nationwide effort to determine the number of species of birds to be seen in each county during a period from sun rise to sundown.

At least two groups, beginning shortly after sunrise will be led by Miss Emma Mae Leonard and William O'Brien, announced Pat Ward, field trips chairman. They will take their count around both lakes in the county, on various farm and woodland areas, and as far west as the Illinois River.

A report session will be held at the Robert Hemphill home on Lockwood place at 8 p.m. Saturday. All members and friends of the Society are invited. It is hoped that the number of species identified by sight and by song will number well over one hundred.

Those interested in an all-day field trip May 16th under the leadership of Pat Ward are asked to watch this newspaper concerning plans.
